RoIP GateWay

P/N : ITT-RP254

Introduction

The ROIP Gateway and switch is designed to transport analog wire line two-way radio control circuits over IP networks. The product can support 8 radio channels with PTT, COR (SQL) signal as well as RS232 Data serial. This product can be used in both Point to Point and Point to Multipoint topology.

It also can be connected to different type of Radio control equipment as Panel PC, laptop, desktop console. The console software is so user-friendly and the operators can control and monitor every radio in the network through the software and ROIP product remotely.

The console software can be configured to Record every events and voices occurred between the radios or radio and consoles.

Features & Benefits

Based on the IP protocol
Radio lines(different Brands)
Data lines RS232 and RS485
Voice Activity Detection (VAD) in COR section
Availability of each communication line and Layers independent on location
Fast Boot UP
OS independent
Low power consumption
Connection to GPS, Weathering System and communication modem
Monitoring the status of conversations and communication lines in the network
Multiple Radio Broadcasting
Power supply 220 and 48Vdc
Listening any current conversation in single or group mode

Website: ittelecom.co
Skype: ittelecomco
Email: mailto:sale@ittelecom.co

https://ittelecom.co/shop/roip-gateway/